Context

The British Red Cross helps people in crisis, whoever and wherever they are. We are part of a global voluntary network, responding to conflicts, national disasters and individual emergencies.

We enable vulnerable people in the UK and abroad to prepare for and withstand emergencies in their own communities. And when the crisis is over we help them to recover and move on with their lives. Within the UK, the British Red Cross operates through 30,000 volunteers and 3,000 staff.

The Education Services team has overall accountability for the strategic education offer in first aid and humanitarian education. We are focused on building individual and community resilience, reducing the risk of vulnerability, and developing ability, confidence and a willingness to act. We are responsible for increasing reach through direct delivery, positioning, and supporting local areas in their delivery.
