Context

The British Red Cross helps millions of people in the UK and around the world to prepare for, respond to and recover from emergencies, disasters and conflicts.

Our volunteers and staff help people in crisis to live independently by providing support at home, mobility aids and transport. We also teach first aid skills.

We are part of the global Red Cross and Red Crescent humanitarian network. We refuse to ignore people in crisis.

Our principles and values

Our values (compassionate, courageous, inclusive and dynamic) underpin everything we do.

As a member of the Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement, the British Red Cross is committed to, and bound by, its fundamental principles: humanity, impartiality, neutrality, independence, voluntary service, unity and universality.

Directorate overview

The role of Trainer sits within the Training team in the Education directorate.

The Red Cross has been delivering first aid at work courses for more than 30 years and has an enviable reputation for quality and excellence. We hold ISO:9001 2008 quality management accreditation and Investors in People Gold standard, demonstrating the quality of service and training you can expect to receive when choosing the British Red Cross.

We are committed to providing a quality learning experience above and beyond your expectations. We achieve a customer satisfaction rating of 99.3 per cent and offer a unique, free online support programme to keep you updated once you complete your course.

With 180 training venues across the UK we're always on your doorstep and are also flexible to provide training at your premises where required.

Purpose of the role

An exciting opportunity for an enthusiastic individual, with excellent communication skills to join a high quality training organisation.

As a customer focused trainer, you will play a vital role to deliver First Aid training and specialist courses using our practical approach of various training techniques to cater for all learning styles. Full training and ongoing support will be provided.

Main responsibilities

1. Deliver a variety of courses to nationally agreed standards at a number of venues, within your area of responsibility
2. Provide consistently high quality training with a focus on the customers learning experience
3. Work independently and as part of a team using own initiative
4. Ensure all relevant administration and IT system information is completed and processed as required
5. To be responsible for the maintenance & cleanliness of all training resources, in accordance with national standards
6. To attend RCT team meetings and development workshops, to maintain up to date knowledge of current legislation and developments in relation to first aid training
7. Working hours to include evenings and weekends
8. Maintain occupational competence in all key areas in accordance with national guidelines
9. Signpost potential new customers to line manager
10. Promote the sales of value added products to customers

11. To uphold the Fundamental Principles of the Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement and to work within the Society's Equal Opportunities and Health and Safety policies
12. To work as part of the RCT team, undertaking any other relevant duties within the overall scope of this post as may be required
13. Contribute to the maintenance of the ISO 9001 and Investors in People standards
